

What is Palace Scholars?

Palace Scholars is an educational program linking students and educators from Title I schools with field trip opportunities to Tryon Palace. This program hopes to connect present and future North Carolinians with their state history in an engaging learning format.

Title I schools in North Carolina are encouraged to submit an application. Palace Scholars is fully funded by contributions from generous donors who share Tryon Palace's goal of ensuring all students, regardless of geographic location or socioeconomic background, have the opportunity to benefit from multidisciplinary programs that supplement traditional curriculum.
